Standex® Training Courses Receive I-CAR Gold Class Points

PLYMOUTH, Mich., Nov. 30, 2004 - I-CAR recently approved two Standox® Technical Training courses for inclusion in the I-CAR Industry Training Alliance. Students who attend the Coloristic course are now eligible for 3 Gold Class Points and those who attend Multi-Stage Refinishing and Blending are now eligible for 4 Gold Class Points.

The Coloristic course provides comprehensive coloristic training, including detailed classroom instruction relating to color theory. Students also practice the application of color theory by adjusting pre-determined OEM colors to obtain a blendable match.

Multi-Stage Refinishing and Blending is an intensive hands-on training that follows the completion of Painter Certification. Students practice the application, repair and blending of a multi-stage system.

These courses are added to the I-CAR approved list of Standox® technical training courses, which currently consists of Painter Certification, worth 6 Gold Class Points and Advanced Certification, worth 7 Gold Class Points.
