New Tech Manual Format

GENBUL4117-E

Date: September, 2009

Please be advised that BASF has updated the format of the Glasurit, R-M, and Limco technical manuals. The new technical manuals are only available in CD format.

Why a Technical Manual in CD format:

1. Customer surveys have indicated that shops only want products and processes used at the facility and compliant with local regulations.
2. Hard copies of technical manuals quickly become outdated.
3. Shops can selectively print out sections of the manual that are relevant to them to minimize clutter and confusion, as well as, ensuring that only compliant products are used.

Copies of the CD's by brand are available for order on the eStore. Go to www.basfrefinish.com and click on the eStore link.

The manuals may also be accessed on www.basfrefinish.com from the homepage by typing manual name in the search box, example: "Glasurit Tech Manual", or by selecting from the menu tab Products > Brand that applies > Technical Info > Technical Manual.

Thank you for your continued support.
